under the recent amendment to the Labor Law providing for weekly payments of wages to employees, Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews pointed out today in response to numerous inquiries regarding the amendment, which was signed by Governor Herbert H. Lehman on May 2, 1935.

"The amendment to Subdivision 2 of Section 196 of the Labor Law does not change the classification of wage earners who must be paid under its provisions, nor does it change the administrative regulation that wage payments must be made either weekly or in full every two weeks to 'employees,' who are defined in the Labor Law as 'working men, laborers or mechanics,'" said Commissioner Andrews. The regulation that fortnightly payments in full are legal is based on an Attorney General's opinion.

"The one practical change made by the amendment is to bring under the law unincorporated concerns, partnerships and individuals who were not covered under the terms of the old law.

"This amendment was designed to protect the employees of so-called gyp unincorporated firms, partnerships and individuals who would set up business to perform one or two contracts, defer the payments of wages to their employees for prolonged periods and then shut up shop and disappear. They will now have to pay wages within two-week intervals. The law previously compelled only corporations and joint-stock associations to do this.

"Subdivision 2 of Section 196 of the Labor Law formerly read:

'Every other corporation or joint-stock association, or person carrying on the business thereof by lease or otherwise, shall pay weekly to each employee the wages earned to a day not more than six days prior to the date of such payment.'

"As amended by Chapter 619 of the Laws of 1935, this section now reads:

'Every person carrying on a business by lease or otherwise shall pay weekly to each employee the wages earned to a day not more than six days prior to the date of such payment.'

"Subdivision 8 of Section 2 of the Labor Law says 'person' includes a corporation or a joint-stock association.

"The Bureau of Labor Welfare of the State Department of Labor will be materially assisted in the collection of wages by this amendment."

Hon. Herbert Lehman,
 The State Capitol,
 Albany, New York.

Dear Sir:--

We are the attorneys for The Woodlawn Cemetery and write to protest in their behalf against approval of Senate bill No. 927, Int. No. 854 amending the Labor Law in relation to the weekly payment of wages.

The Cemetery is a membership corporation not engaged in business for profit. It has about 400 employees who would be affected by the bill, and who are now paid on a bi-monthly basis. To change the pay-roll from bi-monthly to a weekly basis would involve a substantial added expense to the Cemetery's cost of operation. The extra expense would include the armored service which delivers the pay-roll from the bank, additional accounting necessary in preparing the weekly pay-roll, additional labor each week to pay the money, added expense on additional time cards, pay-roll sheets, etc.

The present steadily increasing cost of operation, particularly for a non-profit making organization, is a serious problem, and any added expense, such as a weekly pay-roll, may necessitate a curtailment of the pay-roll itself.

We therefore respectfully request that you veto the bill.

Yours very truly,

FRASER, SPEIR, MEYER & KIDDER

MEMORANDUM FOR THE GOVERNOR

Senate Print No. 927
" Intro. No. 854

This bill was introduced at the request of the Department of Labor. It amends the Labor Law by requiring that every person employing workers within the scope of the Labor Law shall pay weekly to each employee the wages earned.

This Section of the Law was formerly limited to corporations and joint stock associations. The experience of the Department in our wage collection work clearly indicated that it was imperative that this same requirement should be extended to individuals and copartnerships carrying on business. Many of our wage collection complaints involved the individual or copartnership type of employer.

An amendment of this same kind was sought from the Legislature last year but by a strange quirk of legislative performance, the Assembly defeated a similar bill to this at the same time that it passed a companion bill amending the Penal Law Sections and making a misdemeanor the failure to pay wages weekly by other than corporations or joint stock associations. Consequently, for the past year the Penal Law has been more stringent in its requirement than this Section of the Labor Law to which it refers. This bill will bring the wording of the Labor Law and Penal Law into agreement.

I therefore recommend it to you for approval.

in re

Senate Intro.854 - Print 927

This bill amends section 196 of the labor law relative to the weekly payment of wages by making it applicable to all employers covered by the provisions of the labor law generally rather than, as now limited to corporations and joint stock associations. There never was any fundamental reason for the distinction of the limitation to corporations and joint stock associations in the matter of weekly payment.

The experience of our Labor Welfare Division in the collection of unpaid wages clearly indicates that the lack of the requirement of weekly wages by all types of employers has undoubtedly led to the creation of the non wage payment evil in the individual or individually operated business or the co-partnership.

A bill similar to this was presented by the Department last year together with a companion bill amending the Penal law in the same respect. By a strange quirk of legislative procedure, the bill amending the Penal law was adopted by the Legislature and signed by your Excellency, whereas the basic amendment of the labor law was beaten in the Assembly. Therefor, for the past year, the Penal law establishes an offense that makes reference to section 196 of the labor law which does not correspond in the coverage of the entities in business. This situation should be remedied and this bill brings both the labor law and the penal law into agreement.

For these reasons, I earnestly ask that you approve this bill.
